

Week 3 Report

Group Members: David Jones, Brennan Kandalauft, Luis Ruiz

Client: Ian Berke or Nathaniel Huebsch

Project Status: We are currently deciding between two projects. Ian Berke's project addresses drug non-compliance in osteoporosis treatments while Nathaniel Huebsch's project is a device that can apply a controlled amount of strain to a seeded tissue. Each project has its own pros and cons, and we expect to have a finalized decision very soon. In the meantime, we are performing research on both projects to uncover which one is more promising and might serve as the better project for this class.

Next Steps: Our next major step is to finalize our decision on which project to pursue, which we expect to come very quickly. Next, we have to write our project scope, this implies narrowing down our field to define certain characteristics that our prototype will address.
